POOR BLOOD!
Nearly every ailment with which our race is afflicted can be traced to poverty of blood. Correct that and the trouble will disappear.
BELL'S SARSAPARILLA
Is the Remedy to do it.
This medicine has been found a valuable preparation for Neuralgic and Rheumatic Pains, Kidney Troubles, &c. showing that to correct and restore the blood at the proper time will insure health the whole year.
BELL'S SARSAPARILLA
has received more testimonials from those who have been benefitted by it than all other spring medicines put together in Eastern Maine. It is sold in nearly every town and is the leader in that line. If you have tried other preparations and been disappointed, do not fail to try Bell's Sarsaparilla with them, even if you do not choose to try that.
Read the following Statement from one of Bangor's well-known Citizens:
BANGOR, April 15, 1884.
Some fourteen months since I accidentally caught my foot in a chain attached to a sled and was thrown violently to the ground, receiving a severe injury to the right hip and leg. It caused me months of suffering, from lameness, stiffness of the joints, and rheumatic pains, etc. I tried different medicines, liniments, etc., but received no lasting benefit. Feeling that I needed a blood medicine, I procured a bottle of BELL'S SARSAPARILLA which I have taken, and I am greatly improved in health. It has removed the stiffness of the joints, cured the pain which I suffered, and I recommend it to all.
H. LEWIS, 118 Essex St., Bangor.

STATE NEWS.

Androscoggin.
Prof. O. C. Wendell, who was graduated at Bates in '68, now Professor of Astronomy at Harvard University, has recently been elected a member of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences. Prof. Wendell was also elected a member of the American Association for the Advancement of Science in 1881, also a member of the M. P. Club, an association of mathematicians and physicists of Boston and Cambridge in 1881, and became a member of the Boston Scientific Society in 1882.

A Mechanic Falls correspondent to the Lewiston Journal writes as follows: Several merchants in this vicinity have been nearly caught by a swindler. A young man of fine personal appearance and an honest countenance drops into the store about dusk saying he is agent for the Puzzoline Co., 48 Hanover street, Boston. He has goods which he would like the merchant to sell on commission. As there seems no risk several readily consented to handle them on 30% per cent. commission, the goods to be paid for when sold. The peddler's agent then takes out a memorandum which he wishes you to read and sign. It seems to read just as he has talked, that you are to pay for the goods when sold. When the goods arrive another agent is on hand with a bill, and on a very careful reading of the memorandum the merchant finds he has been caught by the wording of the memorandum and must pay for the goods at once.

Cumberland.
There have been twenty-one hopeful conversions the present term among the students of North Bridgton Academy, says the Christian Mirror, and the work is still going on.

The city of Portland has entered suit against the Union Mutual Life Insurance company for unpaid taxes, for 1882 and 1883, amounting to about $6,000. The case will go to the full court in July.

Hancock.
Work has commenced on the new church at Southwest Harbor, with the hope that it can be ready for occupancy by July 1st. A call has been given to Rev. A. Redlon, of West Newfield, to supply the pulpit.

Kennebec.
The New England party of railroad men which will be present at the opening of the Mexican Central railroad in May, depart from Boston next Monday. Darius Alden, Esq., of Augusta, Mr. Arthur Sewall, Bath, and Jacob Edwards, Esq., treasurer of the Edwards Manufacturing Co., will take the trip.

A surprising phenomenon was noticed at the head of Cobbosseecontee pond in connection with the use of water there. Near East Winthrop, and but a short distance from the pond, is a large area of low land known as Fuller's Meadow. When the water is down, as is the case in the summer and fall, this meadow is uncovered. In the spring it is overflowed. Several weeks ago the water came up as usual, and in doing so took with it a large area, amounting to several acres in extent, of the surface of the flat sod, earth and all being firmly matted together. These united that the water, and more quickly established an island than anything else. It attracted much attention from passers-by, and one found, odd, that he thought there could be no possible backing a yoke of oxen out over the surface. The low bank where melted away, leaving the earth to drop back when it came from.

Sagadahoc.
Geo. H. Nichols, Esq., of Boston, who is at the head of one of the largest water works companies in the country, was in Bath, recently, and in company with Mayor Nichols, Arthur Sewall and James A. McLellan, drove to Nequasset pond, the Lilly pond, and the Androscoggin river to see which would be the most preferable route from which to bring water to Bath. Mr. Nichols made an examination of the pond, and returned to Boston. Next week he will give his decision as to how much he will put the water works in Bath, and have them ready for use by next fall. Mayor Nichols on being asked what the outlook was, said, "It looks like a big job, but we are bound to have water, and have it this year, if the citizens of Bath will watch Mr. Nichols as he is now putting works in Gloucester, Mass."

The first list supplied Newport, Sebec and Newfoundport with water.

Somerset.
Melvin S. Woodward, of Biddeford, was upset while on a boat, Saturday, succeeded in getting out, and had nearly righted his canoe, when another wave came and he was again tossed under the boat, which was for a second time turned upward. The upset was reported in Bangor, and Mr. Woodward's friends had given him up as drowned. After struggling for some time he was rescued by the water. All this time he was carrying a heavy overcoat, which retarded his movements. His friends exceedingly rejoiced over his safety, as he is universally respected by a party of ten men and more who participated in the boat ride.

Waldo.
The Democratic caucus of Belfast was held on Monday evening, and but a small number were present. The caucus was addressed by Hon. Nathan Weston, Jr., and Hon. Edward Stanwood, of Augusta, and by Hon. Charles A. Boutelle, of Bath. Mr. Boutelle's speech was a strong one, and was received with much applause. Mr. Stanwood's speech was also very able, and was listened to with close attention. Mr. Weston's speech was a rehash of the old issues, and was received with cold indifference.

Washington.
Mr. Ellis Johnson, of Harbor, recently had a valuable cow to die from the effects of a bite from a rattlesnake, since which Dr. Graves' Heart Regulator (the English) is using a wonderful cure in telling the good it received.—Kate Musgrave, Calais, Me. For sale at druggists.

York.
Don't suffer any longer with the pains and aches of Rheumatism, which make life a burden to you. Relief, speedy and certain, may be procured at the nearest drug store, in the form of Kidney-Wort. Coolidge Malcolm, of West Bath, Maine, says: "I was completely prostrated with rheumatism and kidney troubles, and was not expected to recover. The first dose of Kidney-Wort helped me. Six doses put me on my feet. It has now entirely cured me, and I have had no trouble since."

WORKED WONDERS
"A daughter was very bad off on account of cold and pain in her lungs. Dr. Graves' Heart Regulator relieved her in twenty-four hours. One of the boys was cured of sore throat. Hills' Asthma Cure worked wonders in one family."—Abijah Pinckney, Malagasco, N. Y.

BAPTIST MINISTER'S EXPERIENCE.
"I am a Baptist minister, and belonged to the order of being a clergyman I graduated in medicine, but left a lucrative practice to my present profession, forty years ago. I was for many years a sufferer from quinsy. Dr. Graves' Heart Regulator relieved me. I also troubled with hoarseness, and Thomas' Eclectric Oil always relieved me. My wife and child had diphtheria and Thomas' Eclectric Oil cured them, and if there is one thing it will cure seven times out of ten I am confident it is a cure for consumption. Cold, or cough, and if any one will take a small teaspoon and put in it Fifty Oil, and then place the end of the spoon in one nostril and draw the Oil out of the spoon into the head, by sniffing it hard as they can, until the Oil falls over in to the throat, and practice it for a week I don't care how offensive the cold in the head is, it will break it up, and one bottle is sufficient. For diphtheria and croup it has done wonders in my own family knowledge. It is the only medicine without opium used in me that I have ever felt like recommending, and I am very anxious to see it in every place, for I tell you that I would not be without it in my house for any consideration. I am now suffering with a pain like rheumatism in my right thigh, and nothing relieves me like Thomas' Eclectric Oil."—Dr. F. F. Crane, Corydon, Ind.

Don't suffer any longer with the pains and aches of Rheumatism, which make life a burden to you. Relief, speedy and certain, may be procured at the nearest drug store, in the form of Kidney-Wort. Coolidge Malcolm, of West Bath, Maine, says: "I was completely prostrated with rheumatism and kidney troubles, and was not expected to recover. The first dose of Kidney-Wort helped me. BAPTIST MINISTER'S EXPERIENCE.
"I am a Baptist minister, and belonged to the order of being a clergyman I graduated in medicine, but left a lucrative practice to my present profession, forty years ago. I was for many years a sufferer from quinsy. Dr. Graves' Heart Regulator relieved me. I also troubled with hoarseness, and Thomas' Eclectric Oil always relieved me. My wife and child had diphtheria and Thomas' Eclectric Oil cured them, and if there is one thing it will cure seven times out of ten I am confident it is a cure for consumption. Cold, or cough, and if any one will take a small teaspoon and put in it Fifty Oil, and then place the end of the spoon in one nostril and draw the Oil out of the spoon into the head, by sniffing it hard as they can, until the Oil falls over in to the throat, and practice it for a week I don't care how offensive the cold in the head is, it will break it up, and one bottle is sufficient. For diphtheria and croup it has done wonders in my own family knowledge. It is the only medicine without opium used in me that I have ever felt like recommending, and I am very anxious to see it in every place, for I tell you that I would not be without it in my house for any consideration. I am now suffering with a pain like rheumatism in my right thigh, and nothing relieves me like Thomas' Eclectric Oil."—Dr. F. F. Crane, Corydon, Ind.

Republican District Convention.

The Republicans of the Fourth Congressional district of Maine, composed of the Counties of Penobscot, Piscataquis, Aroostook and Washington, are requested to send delegates to a Convention to be held at the City Hall, in Bangor, on Thursday, April 29th, 1884, at 10 o'clock A. M., for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Representative from this District to the Forty-ninth Congress of the United States, and of nominating a candidate for President, and of selecting two delegates and two alternate delegates to the Republican National Convention to be held at Chicago, June 3d, 1884, and of transacting such other business as may properly come before said Convention.

Each city, town and plantation will be entitled to one delegate, and for every seventy five votes cast for the Republican candidate for Governor in 1883 one delegate, and for each fraction of fifty votes one delegate.

REPUBLICAN CAUCUSES.

The Republican voters of the City of Bangor are hereby requested to meet at the usual places for said meetings on Tuesday Evening, April 24th, 1884,

At 7.30 o'clock,

to elect three delegates from each Ward to attend the Republican District Convention to be held in Bangor, April 29th, 1884, and three delegates from each Ward to attend the Republican State Convention to be held in Bangor, April 30th, 1884. The delegates elected will meet in the Common Council Room later in the evening to elect six delegates at large to each convention.

We hope that the caucuses will be largely attended, as it is important that Bangor should have a strong representation in both conventions. Besides the Gubernatorial and Congressional nominations, delegates to the National Convention are to be elected, and Presidential Electors nominated. Maine should have a strong delegation in the National Convention, for with our distinguished statesman, James G. Blaine, still, without doubt, by one of the leading candidates, and Bangor Republicans should take the initiative step to-night by attending the caucuses with full ranks.

Curious Kind of Reform.

That was a curious kind of "reform" bill offered in the House on Monday which proposed to repeal all the statutes fixing the compensation of all classes of officers appointed by the President, and to make this sweeping change under a suspension of the rules with only a few minutes for debate. But the strangest feature of all was the statement of Mr. Bayne, in advocacy of the bill, that "of the purpose of making this bill acceptable to the Democratic party in the House a proviso was put into it which excludes the present occupants of the offices from its effects." No wonder that astonishment was expressed at this candid avowal of the sort of bargain that had been clandestinely made in a bill purporting to be in the interest of reform. Mr. Bayne's statement is confirmed by the fact that the bill contained just such a proviso that its friends did not apply to any person now in office.

In effect it declared that in order to get Democratic support for the bill it was framed so that none of the thousands of Republican holding office by appointment of the President, including the many wounded soldiers who are filling such places, should have any of the advantages of the bill, but must reach the legal end of their tenure in office for a Democratic President, if one should be elected, to fill all the offices of the country with new men of his own political faith; and that then the new law should take effect and keep the new crowd in for life or during good behavior." That is certainly a strong bid for Democratic votes, but the members on that side were evidently rendered suspicious by such a generous offer to sacrifice all the Republican officeholders and were afraid the measure might prove to be some kind of a trick horse.

Mayor Harrison, of Chicago, "One Carter" is for Tilden for President, and for—himself—for the second place on the ticket. Harrison is very modest.

The Iowa delegation to the Chicago convention, remarked a prominent Iowa man now in Congress, will not, I think, be structed as it was in 1880. It will not, however, be less heartily in favor of Blaine than it was then. On the contrary will again be solidly for Blaine. His strength in the State has not been declining; if anything it has grown. The tendency, though, is to proceed carefully and with deliberation this year, and to this feeling is to be ascribed the unwillingness to instruct delegates, not as will probably be said by Mr. Blaine's opponents, to a loss of popularity on his part, or to a fear on the part of the delegates that he cannot urela majority vote of the convention."

Senator Logan has reported favorably from the Committee on the Judiciary, the joint resolution proposing such an amendment to the Constitution of the United States as would empower the President to veto one or more items of appropriation in the special or general list in an appropriation bill, while approving of the remainder of the bill.

Congressman Horr has started for Michigan to attend the State Convention, which meets April 24. He seems to think that the delegation to Chicago ought not to be pledged to support any candidate, and will advise this convention accordingly. "There is no doubt," a strong sentiment in favor of Blaine in Michigan, which seems to quicken under the impulse given to it by like sentiments in other states. Michigan has always been a Blaine State, and will probably be again this year. Edmunds, I find, has gained a strong foothold in the State, but of an Arthur sentiment, I fail to find even the smallest trace."

Independents and Mr. Blaine.

Kennebec Journal.

A few self-styled independent papers, mostly in New England, deprecate the nomination of Mr. Blaine for President on the ground that it will be objectionable to Independents and civil service reformers. These papers do not inform their readers that Mr. Blaine is not seeking the nomination, that he has no office holding machine at work for him, and that the good for him is spontaneous, and rests upon his popularity with the people. In Pennsylvania, which will send nearly a solid delegation to Chicago for Blaine, that result was achieved by the common people against the strenuous opposition of the officeholders.

At the recent Independent Republican conference held in New York, resolutions against Mr. Blaine as the Republican candidate for President were introduced. The Pennsylvania Independents opposed their adoption, because as stated by the Press, the proposed action deliberately set at naught the history of the Independent movement in that State. In Pennsylvania Mr. Blaine's name is associated with the most formidable Independent movement the country has witnessed since 1872. His most cordial supporters in any State are the men who in 1881 and again in 1882 stepped beyond the party lines in Pennsylvania and arrayed themselves 30,000 or more in number, against the machine.

Mr. Blaine's defeat at Cincinnati in 1876, and at Chicago in 1880, was accomplished by office holders, but the result broke down the cult cult—that artful invention of machine control—and led to the emancipation of both Pennsylvania and New York from the political autocracy which up to the National Convention had controlled these states.

The efforts and representations of the Pennsylvania Independents defeated the resolutions aimed at him in the recent New York Independent conference. The ability of Independent's managing war horse, whose name just excited a greater confidence than any other in favor of Independent success, was clearly seen and recognized, and the resolutions quickly went to the ground. All the opposition that Mr. Blaine's nomination will meet at the National Convention from Pennsylvania will come from Philadelphia, the seat of office holding power; in New York State the opposition strength to him is concentrated in the great city where the machine still keeps its power.

The editor of the Commercial is somewhat excited about the local items that appeared over a Portland despatch in Wednesday's Whig, and, as was to be expected, distributes the partisan statement sent out by the Portland agent, who, we presume, belongs in the Argus office. The charges made against the City Marshal, of Portland, were preferred by the Mayor on what he deems to be reliable information, and are of a very grave character. Whether or not the evidence is sufficiently strong to convict the Marshal is a matter to be determined at the hearing, when he will be given ample opportunity to present his side of the case. What we object to, however, is the unprecedented manner in which the sender of the despatch set himself up as judge and jury and in what is supposed to be an impartial news item coolly dispose of the whole matter as being simply "political persecution." If the Marshal, at the duly appointed hearing clears himself of the charges then it will be eminently proper to give the acquittal the same publicity as has been given the charges. That telegraph item is a piece of inexcusable impertinence.

The Morrison bill, say the North American, is clearly doomed to inglorious defeat, and by its friends. They have decided that the all-session talk shall extend over three days, at least. If they confine it to three minutes, the act would have appeared like a flash of electric light against the midnight blackness of Democratic stupidity. The horizontal bill may as well get ready to come down.

Some of our Bourbon contemporaries are grieving over the cuts of Republican statesmen. The Courier-Journal says: "Grant won't speak to Blaine, Blaine won't speak to Conkling, Arthur won't speak to Logan, Conkling won't speak to Arthur, Logan won't speak to Blaine." Just wait, says the Inter-Ocean, till one of them is nominated for President, or some other good Republican, and see how quickly they will all take off their coats and pull the wagon along. If the Bourbon free-traders are expecting a Republican family quarrel they will have to wait awhile.

The New York Times has the following: "Suppose the Republican party should engage in the campaign with a candidate of whom it could say without fear of denial: He is able, sagacious, experienced, tried, spotless, disinterested. In that case it would win." Certainly; and that is why the nominees are almost unanimous in their support of Mr. Blaine.

Senator-elect Payne has been declining and denying a great deal of late, but it is not reported that he has denied having said that in the event of the passage of the Morrison bill Ohio would be lost to the Democrats. It may be thought that what Democrats have to say on the Presidential question does not amount to much, since the decision of that important matter to all appearances rests with the other party; but some of their declarations promise to create considerable confusion in the Democratic campaign, whatever course the party may adopt.

The Republicans of the Third Congressional District held their Convention in Waterville to-day. Hon. S. L. Milliken will without doubt be handsomely renominated.

A Washington despatch to the Boston Journal says: Mr. Dingley, of Maine, made a strong effort Tuesday morning to secure unanimous consent for the consideration of the bill reported by the Banking and Currency Committee, which authorizes the Secretary of the Treasury to use the lawful money deposited by national banking associations which are going into liquidation or are reducing circulation in purchasing bonds of the United States. Mr. Dingley found an opportunity to say that many millions of dollars of lawful money are now locked up in the Treasury, which, should the bill become a law, would be thrown into circulation. This fund of unused and unusable lawful money is increasing at the rate of two million dollars a month and the inability of the Secretary of the Treasury to pay it out is leading to a steady and rather rapid contraction of the currency circulation of the country. "Calamity" Weller and several other Democrats stoutly objected to the consideration of this measure, Weller declaring that he wanted the whole national banking system wiped out, and that the bill could not be considered with his consent at any time.

Geo. Adam Badeau has arrived in New York.

An exchange remarks that Morrison has come out for "protection." He wants the Democratic party protected from Randall and his followers, both incidentally and for purposes of revenue.

Hon. John W. Foster, U. S. Minister to Spain, who arrived in Washington Monday, has come to confer with the authorities in regard to the details of the projected commercial treaty between Spain and the United States. It is said on undisputed authority that his visit has nothing to do with the alleged plan for the purchase of Cuba by the United States, nor has it any bearing on the insurrection in Cuba.

The Secretary of the Treasury and the Attorney-General have issued orders to their agents in cities bordering on the Gulf of Mexico for the strict enforcement of the neutrality laws. The agents are instructed to keep a sharp lookout for Cuban insurgents and to intercept any filibustering expedition bound for Cuba. The revenue steamers Forward and Seward are cruising in the Gulf on patrol duty.

The old house of Judge Black, near York, Penn., is kept just as he left it. In the library over the desk pencils with which he was accustomed to write with his left hand. On the table just as he laid them down, no change being made in the furniture except that a picture of the Judge that been put on the wall, and a bust, as yet only a plaster, has been placed on a temporary pedestal. The last book he looked into was Curtis' "Life of Buchanan," and the rough edges of the leaves, which he tore apart by tearing his thumb through them—for he never would use a paper cutter—show how much of it he had read. He had not opened that part which related to himself at all. The chapter which he had thus left unread open was that headed "Death of Mr. Buchanan. His Character as a Statesman. A Man and a Christian."

Since the introduction of the new cabs in New York city by the New York Cab Company, the New York Hack Owners' Association have reduced fares so low that the New York Tribune says: "It is cheaper now to ride than to walk."

The Greenback State Convention meets in Lewiston to-day. Jesse Harper, of Illinois, will be among the speakers at a meeting to be held in the evening. Rodney F. Foss, of Auburn, chairman of the committee that called the convention, informed a Lewiston Journal man in a brief interview on Tuesday, that Harper had recently written him a letter accepting the invitation and saying that he was for the straight article—Greenbackism unadulterated.

The reporter asked Mr. Foss, Tuesday morning, his opinion as to the work of the convention and his reply was that he hadn't a doubt but it would go ahead and nominate Dr. H. P. Eaton, of Camden, for Governor.

"Do you expect a big convention?"

"No, we don't," was the reply. "We know pretty well who'll be here. This is a bad time of year for a convention. Delegates to the National Convention had to be chosen, however, before May 15, or they were of no use. Otherwise we should have held this convention until later."

Maine State College

SOME INTERESTING STATISTICS.

From the report of the Trustees and Officers of the State College, I draw the following interesting figures.

Number of students since school was opened, who have graduated or left the school before graduating, 197 graduates, 5 non-graduates, number died 3—11; Hon. living, number whose occupations are given in the report, 175—151, divided as follows civil engineers, 16; graduates—15; graduates; mechanical engineers and inventors, 19—21; artists and draughtsmen, 12—8; professors of mechanic—2 ; lumbermen, 4—7, total in mechanics, 77 graduates—37 non-graduates farmers, 18 graduates—28 non-graduates; professors of agriculture, 2—2; stock keepers, 1—4, broker, 1, total, in mercantile business, 14 graduates—13 non-graduates.

Chemists, 2—0; apothecaries, 0—1, 1 in chemical arts, 8—1

Ministers, 2—2, doctors, 5—7; medical students, 2—4; lawyers, 5—8, law students, 2—1; editors, 1—1; total in the professions, 20 graduates—23 non-graduates

Miscellaneous, 9 graduates—11 non-graduates.

Percentage in mechanic arts, 44—24; in chemical arts, 5—1; in agriculture, 12—15; teachers, 11—04; percentage in each which the school is intended to train students for, 77 graduates—33; non-graduates. Mercantile business, 08 graduates—8; non-graduates. Professions, 11 graduates—13; non-graduates. Percentage of graduates and non-graduates who are farmers, 15; civil engineers, 9; mechanics, 12; teachers, 7.06; lawyers, 05

Twenty-six ladies have been students in college, 17 of whom graduated. Of graduates, 10 are teachers, 5 married, 1 a clerk, and one gives no employment. Of the non-graduates, 3 are teachers, 2 married, 1 a nurse, 4 give no employment.

The above figures show that 75 of the graduates and 13½ of the non-graduates are actually engaged in some pursuit connected with agriculture. Of those handicrafts, two, and ten of the twenty-six teachers are women; that only 11½ of the graduates and 15½ of the non-graduates are in the so-called learned professions, the largest percentage of non-graduates are in the mercantile business; that of graduates and non-graduates together, Teachers lead with 15 p.c. the whole of the above figures also refute the charges raised, that the school is only training doctors and lawyers, and draws its students away from the farm and workshop. The longer a student stays, the more likely they are to enter upon some branch of agricultural vocation, for the reason that the greatest number even in the freshman class, considering that the students are boys, hardly know what they are going there to do. It speaks very well for the College that so many are preparing for which the school was intended to prepare. F. A. H.

AN APPEAL FOR IMPROVED CATTLE CARS.

We Publish Stock Tax (to protect ourselves) stating in plain English to every shipper that while flax seed, meal, oil cake, &c., in bulk, can be carried in cattle cars, it is the requirement that animals while in transit be fed every 24 hours, and that there is a tender of such feed, and water, at each station. This law prevents their being carried in bulk, and compels the shipment in sacks, and the consequent handling at the stopping places of 24 hours, with much expense. It being impossible to get the sacks in the cattle cars, they have always to be thrown down on the platforms, without shelter, or protection.

Hundreds of car loads of cattle pass over the Vermont Central Railroad, and other roads, every week, and the shippers are actually obliged to submit to the imposition of having their cattle fed on the platforms, in the storm and cold, or else have the cattle delayed at the stopping places for 24 hours, with much expense. It being impossible to get the sacks in the cattle cars, they have always to be thrown down on the platforms, without shelter, or protection.

Bulwer Lytton's Bridge.

Where it Touches the Shores and the Great Columns in Midstream.

"What is the artful Devil to do with our age and child-hood's religion? How banish from the child's lips the prayer and worship centering Him, and how indistinctly, on quitting Him, the old man turns for help to any error and worship, putting himself again in close alone with the infinite?" wrote Sir E. Bulwer Lytton, in his "Strange Story."

Yes, indeed, between the distant outlines of the bridge of life how many high and awful arches, through which the world waters rush and roar in wrath and desolation. Prayer and worship alone do not save us. Without "Christ's spirit, reason and life no religion, no faith, and human art and skill must bear and solidify the structure overhead. God's will is best exemplified in the laws He has made for the creatures of His hand, placed under their control. Neither the child's breathful "Our Father," nor the old man's "Forgive me not in the midst of mine infirmities," will alter this by the weight of a single grain.

Science and art first—then faith and prayer—is the order of Heaven itself. Divinity leads through its agents, and those agents are the discoveries of man, not the vague announcements of prophets of seers. Is life a burden to you? Does time drag in your prayer to open it? Be a problem and riddle yourself? You erect well. Your Blood is sluggish and tainted, perhaps, or some important organ is torpid or overworked. This fact may manifest itself in the form of dyspepsia, rheumatism, gout, malaria, pains in the stomach, dizziness, headache, or any of a dozen other ills. PARKER'S TONIC will invigorate you, as fresh air invigorates those who have been shut up in damp, foul cells. It is powerful, pure, delicious, scientific, safe—the keystone of the central arch of the bridge of life.
